Fight with cancer ends for Judd

Local businesswoman and supporter of Lee County youth Cherie Jean Hall Judd died last Friday following a long fight with cancer.

Judd, 38, was known for her pleasant manner while undergoing difficult treatment over several years.

She leaves behind a husband, Thomas Lee Judd, II, a daughter, Jacquelyn Nichole Judd, parents, siblings, and a host of nieces, nephews, and other relatives and friends.

Judd was the chief financial officer for Juniper Health, Inc., where she received the Meaningful Use Vanguard Award – a national recognition for being the first clinic of its type in the state to achieve the award.

She was a Sunday school teacher and Wednesday night youth group leader at the Idamay Bible Church.

She was also active in Lee County Youth Sports.

Attention focuses on pill mills

By Tara Kaprowy/Kentucky Health News

As a bipartisan group of political leaders pushes the General Assembly to pass a bill that would crack down on "pill mills" that contribute to prescription drug abuse, Eastern Kentucky's Operation UNITE has organized a national summit in Florida.

The National Rx Drug Abuse Summit aims to "foster understanding and cooperation among those involved in the battle against the epidemic," reports Laura Ungar for The Courier-Journal.

The event in Orlando was expected to draw 700 people. "I think it's important because Kentucky's not an island ... This truly needs to be a national effort, standing up against the problem," Karen Kelly, president and CEO of Operation UNITE, which serves Eastern Kentucky's Fifth Congressional District, told Ungar.

Tuesday's agenda included an address by Gov. Steve Beshear and Dr. Regina M. Benjamin, the U.S. surgeon general. About 1,000 Kentuckians died last year from prescription drug abuse, more than the number of people who died in car accidents.

But while Beshear, Attorney General Jack Conway and key legislators in both parties push to pass a bill that would crack down on the problem, the Kentucky Medical Association is pushing back.

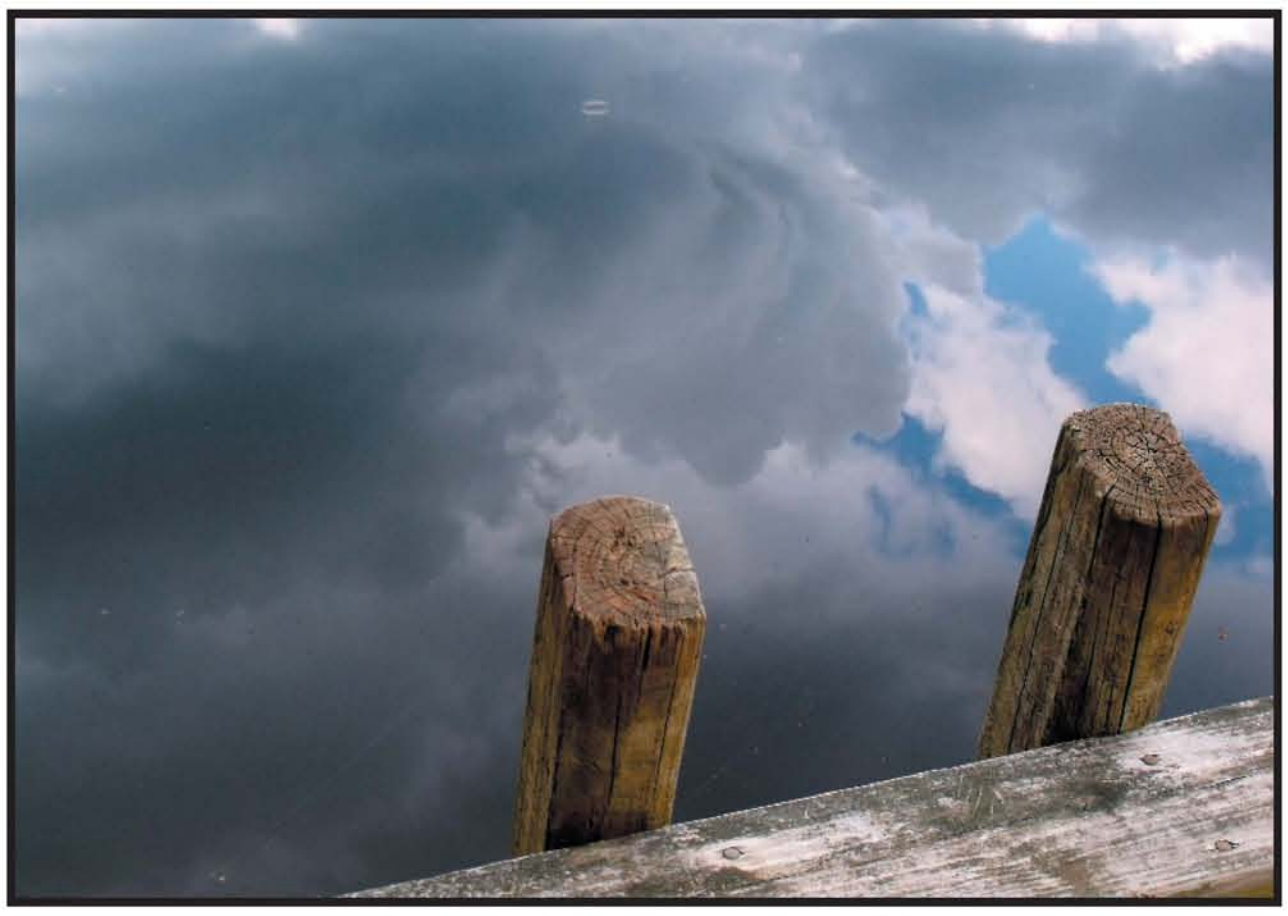

An editorial Sunday in the Lexington Herald-Leader says the KMA "should support the effort to pass this bill and fight this killer." It said, "Drug abuse is not a problem society dumps at the door of physicians. It's one deeply entwined with how we deliver medical care and police the providers."

Today, 15 business lobbying groups issued a press release calling on the legislature to pass the bill, noting that it would "limit direct dispensing of narcotics at a physician's office to no more than a 48-hour supply. This will help control the supply of narcotics and allow for better monitoring of prescription drug abuse." Dave Adkisson, president and CEO of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, said in the release, "Businesses large and small, rural and urban are all experiencing cost increases due to prescription drug abuse. Drug abuse is not only a social problem, it is a bottom-line business issue for Kentucky employers."

Besides the Chamber, other groups joining in the release were the Kentucky Association of Manufacturers, Associated General Contractors, the Home Builders Association of Kentucky, Kentuckians for Better Transportation, the Kentucky Coal Association, Coal Operators and Associates, the Kentucky chapter of the National Federation of Independent Businesses and local chambers in Louisville, Lexington, Northern Kentucky, Southeast Kentucky, Christian County and Hardin County.

Meanwhile, the legal battle against prescription-pill abuse continues. Last week, a Christian County jury found three men guilty of mailing large amounts of oxycodone from Florida to Kentucky. Peter Nibert, 27, of Pasco County, Fla., is believed to have mailed more than 3,000 pills in 2010. Cary Alder, 24, and Scotty Highsmith, 26, both of Hopkinsville were sentenced 10 and 15 years respectively for their part in the scheme.

City budget two-toned, black/red

"We are doing really well"

Beattyville City Treasurer Terry Tipton reported Monday night to the city council that, "We are doing really well." He was referring to the city's budgets, both general and water works.

An examination of the Water Works budget shows it being in the red through three quarters of the year.

Water Works has had expenses of $1,310,952 and revenues of $1,300,555. That is a net loss of $10,397.

However, both revenues and expenses are well below the budgeted amounts.

The same is true for the general fund, but it has a net gain through three quarters.

Revenues were $775,307 and expenses were $735,318. That has the General Fund in the black by $39,989.

Also during Monday night's regular meeting, the council learned that Police Officer (and former chief) Tim Chandler is to be leaving the force this Friday. He is going to become a member of the Kentucky State Police.

There are three candidates to replace him.

County budget must go up

Lee County Finance Officer Pearl Spencer told the fiscal court Monday afternoon that next year's budget must be increased by approximately $80,000 because of higher expenses in solid waste and the jail.

Spencer said that she believes that solid waste must increase by around $50,000 and the jail by $30,000. Monies in the LGEA Fund can pay for those increases. However, that fund will also need an infusion of cash. She did not say where that money could come from.

Also during Monday's regular meeting, the court heard from two representatives from the Veterans Administration Clinic in Hazard. They touted their tele-medicine program as an example of what is available to Lee County's 2,300 veterans.

Craig Lindon of the Kentucky Department of Highways recommended the pavement of 3.4 miles of KY 2017 (Monica-Primrose-Vada-Fillmore Road) as part of the Rural Secondary Road Program. The cost is $254,371.

He also recommended paving 2.6 miles of KKY 587 (Congleton-Ida May-Heidelberg Road) at a cost of $212,189.

The court approved.

Sandy Gay and L. C. Reese discussed the plan of work and budget of the Lee County Soil conservation District for the next fiscal year.

The county spring clean up is April 21.

Judy McIntosh facing 20 years

Judy McIntosh is facing 20 years in prison after pleading guilty to causing the death of a Breathitt County woman by selling her oxycodone.

McIntosh pled guilty in federal court March 28 to one count of conspiracy to distribute oxycodone and one count of causing a death due to distributing oxycodone.

According to court documents, Ashley Ritchie died October 2, 2010 in McIntosh's Breathitt County home. The medical examiner's report said the cause of death was oxycodone overdose.

The mandatory sentence for causing a death by distributing drugs is no less than 20 year, nor more than life imprisonment. Associated with it is a fine up to $1 million and three years of supervised release.

On the conspiracy charge, the sentence is up to 20 years, a $1 million fine and three years of supervised release.

Her plea agreement says that she and Jack Terry and other conspired to distribute oxycodone in Lee and Breathitt counties between August 2010 and June 28, 2011.

Terry distributed pills to McIntosh, and she distributed them to users.

Terry is to be sentenced August 9 in London.

An accomplice, Virgil David Johnson, has pled guilty, and is to be sentenced July 26.

McIntosh also faces state charges in Lee Circuit Court.

AG Conway cautions about facebook postings during spring break

As many Kentuckians enjoy time off this week for spring break, Attorney General Jack Conway and his Cybercrimes Unit have an important reminder for those who use social-networking sites, like Facebook or MySpace.

"Remember to 'think before you post,' said General Conway. "When you post vacation plans or upload pictures while on vacation, you are letting the world, and a potential home intruder, know that your home is vacant."

General Conway also reminds teens that what they post online can jeopardize both their safety and their future.

"The words and images that you post on the Internet can affect admission to a college, future employment or even personal relationships with friends and family," said General Conway. "Before you post, ask yourself 'would I want my parents, principal, employer or a predator to see this?'"

A 2010 survey of college admissions officers found that more than 80 percent use Facebook to recruit students. Additionally, a Microsoft-sponsored survey from 2009 found that 75 percent of U.S. recruiters and human resources professionals say they are required to research job applicants online.

Guarding Against Identity Theft

Investigators in General Conway's Cybercrimes Unit also remind Kentuckians to protect themselves against identity theft. Posting something as simple as your birth date can make you a target of identity thieves, spammers or even stalkers. Cyberpredators can use your birth date, address or even your interests or hobbies to find out additional information about you or to become an online friend. The less personal information you put on social networking sites, the better.

To stay safe online, Attorney General Conway encourages parents and kids to follow these simple tips:

Tips for Parents

1.Be a "friend" to your child on social networking sites like Facebook or MySpace.

1.Ask to see their profile page to make sure it does not contain personal information that could compromise their safety.

1.Monitor your child's online activities and keep kids out of chat rooms unless they are monitored.

1.Keep the computer in a public area of the home such as a family room or kitchen.

1.Warn your child to never go without you to meet a person they have only met online.

Tips for Kids

1.Protect your password and make sure you really know who someone is before you allow them to be an online friend.

1.Put everything behind password protected walls, where only friends can see.

1.Blur or morph your photos a bit so they won't be abused by cyberbullies or predators.

1.Don't post anything you wouldn't want your parents, principal or a predator to see.

1.Remember, what you post online stays online—forever.

1.Not everyone you meet online is who they say they are.

Created in June 2008, General Conway's Cybercrimes Unit has launched nearly 270 child pornography investigations and seized more than 300,000 child pornographic images and videos from the Internet. The unit is also a member of the Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force (ICAC). Additionally, General Conway and his staff have presented more than 100 cybersafety programs reaching tens of thousands of Kentucky kids and their parents.

For additional information on cybersafety in Kentucky, visit General Conway's Cybersafety Page at http://ag.ky.gov/cybersafety/ . To report cyber abuse, visit the CyberTipline or call 1-800-843-5678.

Dear Editor

Dear Editor,

ATTENTION!! We are past due for a new library. Our very own Library Director had a bad experience when entering the front door of the library on Leap Day - February 29, 2012. She fell on wet tile injuring her right ankle and knee. More people are in danger of experiencing similar incidents.

Come on Lee Countians! Let's do something! The donated land is not doing us any good until we get a building on it. Until we are fortunate enough to get a grant we can begin by making donations. Pennies make dollars. At least we will feel satisfaction for contributing.

I am pledging $50.00 a month untill our dream is fulfilled. I wish I could pledge more, but I challenge everyone to pledge what they are comfortable with. As I said no pledge is too small.

Please consider how valuable our library is to Lee County and help us get this project off the ground. You will be proud. The Library Board has set up a means for collecting any funds we are fortunate enough to receive. Money will need to be given to the library director or one of the staff. Please, we are expecting great things from you!

P.S. If you are writing a check, please make checks payable to the Lee County Public Library Building Fund.

Thank you, Madge Cockerham

Dear Editor:

April is National Car Care Month and chances are if you own a car, it needs some work. Results of community car care events held throughout the country in 2011 show that many consumers are neglecting their cars, with more than eight out of 10 vehicles failing at least one component of the vehicle inspection process. National Car Care Month is the perfect time to focus on your vehicle's maintenance needs.

To help motorists "be car care aware," the non-profit Car Care Council has introduced a new online service schedule, free to all motorists throughout the country. The personalized schedule and e-mail reminder service, powered by DriverSide.com, can be customized by motorists at the council's newly-introduced website, www.carcare.org. Whether you do it yourself or take your car to a professional service technician, following a preventative maintenance schedule will help keep your vehicle safe, dependable and on the road longer. And our new system will give you the reminders that you need to stay on top of this maintenance.

To help consumers become more comfortable with the auto service and repair process, the Car Care Council also recently introduced a new video entitled "Auto Service and Repair: What to Expect" that provides a wealth of information on such topics as finding the right auto repair facility, what to expect at the shop and what questions to ask. The video also covers the real truth about consumer rights and the manufacturer's warranty.

For more helpful information, check out the council's free digital Car Care Guide.

Sincerely,

Rich White
Executive Director

Knocking Monkeys

By Chuck Caudill Jr

Last Saturday, while Kentucky and Louisville were squaring off for their "game of the century", the LCHS Prom was getting underway. Scores of local folks put the game on the "back burner". Don't get me wrong, there were phones out the entire time and score updates and a huge projection television screen with the game on during the prom, but the focus of the evening was the prom.

Over the course of the evening, I heard several interesting comments which made me stop and think about the importance of sports in our lives. This line of thought was reinforced by the violence and chaos that happened in Lexington after the game and the similar events after the national championship game.

Think about it with me. One mother said to me (when it was reported the feed for the television screen in the gym wasn't working) her son would go home until the game was over. Another person told me there were specific clothes that needed to be worn on game days and a very detailed sequence of events had to be followed over the course of the game in order for Kentucky to win. One person told me they love watching the games but don't because when they do, the "Cats" lose. I think we need to examine just what this kind of support says about us.

In ancient Rome, (according to the Russell Crowe Movie "Gladiator") the emperor controlled the people by giving them the games. The huge sums we pay coaches and players to be professionals in "kids games" gives credence to the theory these games can and do control us. The question is why? I don't know, but maybe we are conditioned to root for a team by our childhood. We root for (or against) (depending on how rebellious we are) a specific team because it's the one our families and/or friends root for. It might be, we root for a team, because by doing so, it gives us a great reason to have a party. Maybe each person has their own unique reason for celebrating or crying with their team as fortune smiles upon or withholds her blessings in a game. But, what if some are great fans because they are afraid.

Before you think I'm bashing all fans, I'm not. I'm commenting on a possible reason "fandom" is so important to our culture. Here's my postulation. It's easy to be a fan. As part of the "Big Blue Nation" we buy shirts, caps, tickets and other memorabilia to remind ourselves and show others we are part of something special, but are we? Did we cross that blue line around the court and shoot or block a single shot? The truth is, we didn't, but we create this whole fantasy we are needed to make it happen and we establish rituals where we support that fantasy because another truth is, if our team fails, it really doesn't hurt us. The only thing hurt is our feelings. Being a fan is a safe investment.

Here's another thought. What if we took that same energy and money and put it into improving ourselves and/or our community? What could we accomplish? Of course the downside is, if we fail, we can't blame the coach or team. We can only blame ourselves. Maybe that's why we worship our teams, because they have the courage to truly put themselves on the line to reach for success and can deal with the fear of failure.

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE

The middle layer of the eye, known as the "uvea," is made up of the iris, ciliary body, and choroids. Inflammation of the uvea is known as "uveitis," and it most commonly occurs among young and middle aged individuals. It may be associated with autoimmune disease and many different systemic disorders, but it also occurs in healthy people for no apparent cause. Depending on the type of uveitis and where it is found, symptoms may include light sensitivity, decreased visual acuity, and eye pain or blurred vision and floaters (intermediate and posterior uveitis); diffuse uveitis may cause a combination of all these symptoms. Because failure to treat uveitis may result in vision loss, it is important to see an ophthalmologist. At KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE, we are happy to answer all your questions about eye health and conditions such as uveitis, and we will work with you to find the most convenient appointment. ## Tri-Community News
Alice Gabbard

Hello again from Zoe, Zachariah and Leeco. I do hope and pray everyone had a nice Easter; we did at the Zoe church. Our Pastor had the most touching Easter sermon I have ever heard and I'm sure everyone else would say that also.

I could picture the whole sermon in my mind. I got so interested in the sermon, I didn't take many notes. So just bear with me as I try to tell you some of it. The Scripture was from the book of Luke 24:1-12. Just think of what God our Father did for us. He sent His only begotten Son, Jesus Christ into this world, so we could be saved. His Son Jesus was spit upon, beaten severely, they put a crown of thorns upon His head and He bled. Jesus carried His own cross up a hill to Golgotha . Some man helped Him after Jesus fell down. They put a robe on Jesus and made fun of him; they nailed Jesus' hands and feet, and hung Him in the middle of two other men that were thieves and murderers, but one of the men said, unto Jesus, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee today shalt be with me in paradise. Jesus said "I thirst", and they gave Him vinegar on a wet rag, and all this time Jesus' mother was watching her Son die. He did all this so we could be saved, while He was on the cross we were on His mind. We cannot thank Him enough or praise Jesus enough for what He did for us. Praise be to God forever.

I ask some people to pray for me today as I wrote my article and I have prayed and cried also. Our Pastor said God made us, lost us and bought us back through Jesus. Some of the above that is written is in Luke 23. So nice to see all of you and the ones we hadn't seen in a long time.

The choir sang, "The Blood Will Never Lose it's Power." Bea sang, "He Could Have Called Ten Thousand Angels." During the offertory Connie M. Moening played on her flute, "All Because Of God's Amazing Grace."

Our sympathy, prayers and love to the Cherie Judd family and friends. Cherie fought cancer for many years. She will be missed by a host of people. May God comfort and bless each one.

Thanks for coming to Zoe Church this Easter. You are always welcome.. Please pray for the unsaved, sick, bereaved, our country, our leaders and our military. Read II Chronicles 7:14 and Psalms 91.

Made God be with you until we meet again. I love you more, but Jesus loves you the best. Alice

Preacher Bob's Korner
By Billy Davis

What now?

Where did He go?

Immediately after his resurrection, where did Jesus go? He didn't go play golf or some recreation sports, no, he went to the community and appeared to many - Simon, Eleven, Mary Magdalene and Thomas the doubter, etc. Did not only appear but he ate with them, fish that naturally Peter caught.

Afterward he was caught up in the presence of the disciples and said he would return in like manner.

Where is he today?

On the right hand of God the Father and power which has been committed to him. Through the spirit and church he is also in the world. Because of this the church is the light of the world. No church - no light! The church is his instrument, no church-no instrument!

He will return, don't know the time. Jesus said he comes as a thief in the night, if we knew, we would be ready - so he says, be ready always.

Church will meet him in the air - so shall we always be with him. No return for earth pass away.

There is another sense is which he has already returned. Jesus said you will not have gone over the hills of Israel until I will return in power and glory when was this? Pentecost. (Trinity!)

Kick Butts Day

Submitted by Pam Cornelius

Mayor John Smith and County Judge Steve Mays are seen here signing LCHS KICK BUTTS DAY Proclamation. This Proclamation encouraged adults to stand up with the youth of Beattyville, Kentucky in opposition to the sale, advertising, and marketing of tobacco products to our youth. The students in LCHS's Drug Prevention Council participated in different activities to promote this wonderful cause.

Southside rewarded with 'Rockstar Party'

Southside Elementary participated in a fundraiser with Cherrydale Farms sponsored by Southside PTA. The students sold items and were rewarded with a Rockstar Party for any student who sold over 8 items. Alyssa Bray won $100 for being the school top seller. Landon Holland's name was drawn for a $100 prize. Chris McIntosh, Madison Smith, Alyssa Bray and Bailee Wright also won money from the Money Wheel. We appreciate our students efforts in supporting our school. We would like to thank our students families and the community for their support all year! A big thanks to our PTA for their hard work and support!

4-H Summer Camp

Submitted by Crystal Osborne, CEA for Family & Consumer Sciences

Spring has sprung and before you know it, summer will be here. 4-H Camp is a great way to fill those lazy summer days. At 4-H Camp, young people learn independence, responsibility, have a lot of fun and make many friends.

4-H camps are open to all Kentucky youth between the ages of 9 and 14. Many exciting activities and adventures await campers.

4-H'ers can spend their days participating in activities ranging from swimming to nature hikes. Not only do many children find these activities fun, but they will likely learn new skills and develop a greater appreciation for the environment and wildlife.

4-H personnel want your child to have camping experience that is not only memorable, but safe. All camp staff and volunteers are trained and undergo background checks prior to camp. Each camp location will have an on-site emergency medical technician at all times to take care of campers' needs.

Campers will attend one of four regionally-located camps. All four camps have been accredited since 2005 by the American Camp Association. 4-H members from Lee County will attend J.M. Feltner 4-H Camp in London, Kentucky from June 4-7, 2012. We will be camping with Bell, Breathitt, Jackson and Owsley Counties. Pre-registration forms are due by Monday, April 16, 2012.

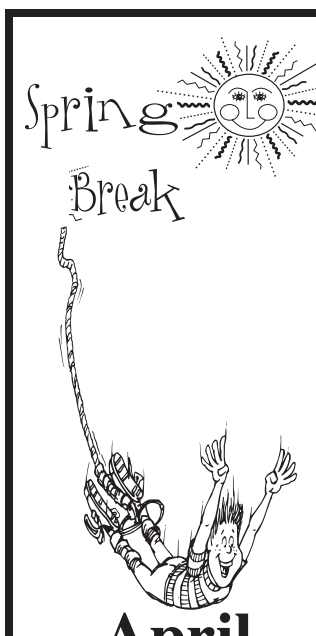

Upon receiving your pre-registration form we will mail you a 4-H Camper registration packet – these forms will be due to the Extension Office by Friday, May 4, 2012. If you would like a pre-registration form for your child or would like more information about 4-H Camp, contact the Extension Office at 606-464-2759 or email crystal.osborne@uky.edu. You can visit the 4-H Camp website at http://www2.ca.uky.edu/4-h/camp. On the website you can view a video about 4-H Camp, there is a parent version and a camper version.

Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

Diabetes Awarness Day at Southside Elementary

Southside Elementary celebrated Diabetes Awareness Day on March 27, 2012 with an assembly and Diabetes Walk. Nurse Dee Thomas educated the students on diabetes and introduced Kirayl Caudell-Rosario, a Southside student with juvenile diabetes. Cara Stamper, a 2nd grade teacher, shared her Dad's diabetes story. The impact of diabetes was felt when Nurse Dee asked for anyone who had a relative with diabetes to come to the gym floor and several responded. Southside Elementary students and staff pride themselves on their support of diabetes.

5-Cancer fighting springtime fruits and veggies

The price of springtime fruits and vegetables seems to increase each year. But when buyers break this expense down to cents, they realize stocking up on these cancer-fighting foods still makes economical sense, say experts from The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center.

"Eating a plant-based diet rich in vegetables, fruits, whole grains and beans can reduce your risk for cancer," said Clare McKindley, a clinical dietitian at MD Anderson's Cancer Prevention Center. "And buying what's in season keeps your diet fresh and helps you build confidence in your food choices, while supporting your long-term health goals."

Here's a list of affordable springtime fruits and vegetables with the cost per serving, based on price listings from the United States Department of Agriculture. Prices may vary depending on where a person lives.

1.Strawberries: $0.89 per serving

1.Health perks: Strawberries are loaded with cancer-fighting nutrients that protect the body from breast, skin, bladder, esophageal and lung cancers.

1.Fresh check: The freshest strawberries still have their green cap attached. They're firm and are free from mold, decay or damage. More than half of the berry surface should be pink or red.

1.Serving size: 1 cup

1.Calories per serving: 46

1.Price: $2.28 average price per pound. A pound of strawberries should give more than 2 cups of whole strawberries.

2.Pineapple (whole): $0.70 per serving

1.Health perks: This sweet treat is low in sodium and high in vitamin C. And, it's perfect as a fat-free dessert option to help adults maintain a healthy weight and lower cancer risks.

1.Fresh check: Choose pineapples that don't have soft or dark spots and dry-looking leaves.

1.Serving size: 1 cup of pineapple chunks

1.Calories per serving: 82

1.Price: $1.04 average price per pound. One pineapple should give about 5 cups of fruit chunks.

3.Spinach: $0.52 per serving (raw)

1.Health perks: Spring is the season of greens, and, spinach is full of green goodness. Eating spinach powers up the body with fiber, folate and antioxidants that may protect the body from cancers of the mouth, pharynx and larynx.

1.Fresh check: Opt for fresh, crisp, green bunches. Watch out for leaves that have insect damage.

1.Serving size: 1 cup spinach raw

1.Calories per serving: 7

1.Price: $3.92 average price per pound. A 10-ounce bag gives about 5 cups of raw spinach.

4.Mustard Greens: $0.81 per serving (cooked)

1.Health perks: For those who aren't big spinach fans, mustard greens are an option. Plus, they're packed with the same cancer-fighting power.

1.Fresh check: Choose leaves that are fresh, fairly tender, clean and free from decay, discoloration or other damage.

1.Serving size: 1 cup cooked

1.Calories per serving: 21 (cooked with no salt or fat added)

1.Price: $2.19 average price per pound. You should get about 2 ½ cups of cooked mustard greens per pound.

5.Broccoli (fresh): $0.63 per serving (cooked)

1.Health perks: Broccoli is the most popular member of the cruciferous family. It's a mighty green, boasting huge quantities of folate, fiberandantioxidants that defend the body from colorectal cancer.

1.Fresh check: Sniff out the best broccoli. Choose odorless bunches with tight, bluish-green florets.

1.Serving size: 1 cup chopped broccoli

1.Calories per serving: 30 (cooked with no salt)

1.Price: $1.84 average price per pound. One pound gives about 5 cups of chopped broccoli.

LAC names February employees of the month

Melissa Brunelle and Jesse Johnson recognized for professionalism and performance at Beattyville's Lee Adjustment Center.

Lee Adjustment Center (LAC), owned and operated by CCA, America's leader in partnership corrections, names Melissa Brunelle and Jesse Johnson as Employees of the Month for February, 2012. Brunelle works as the mail room clerk and Johnson works as a Senior Corrections Officer at the 816-bed facility, operated in partnership with the State of Vermont. They join a staff of more than 125 including professionals in security, health services, education, rehabilitation services, counseling, management and administration.

Brunelle was hired in June, 2006 as the Mail Room Clerk. Her duties include sorting all incoming mail and opening, inspecting, and reading all mail addressed to inmates. She ensures that all outgoing letters and packages are properly prepared for daily postal pickup.

Johnson began his career in corrections in May, 2007. He was promoted to Senior Correctional Officer in October, 2010. His duties include supervising and assisting others to ensure the safety and security of the facility, its staff and inmates and the larger community.

Both Brunelle and Johnson reside in Owsley County.

"Both these individuals are valuable assets to our team," said Warden Norman McClure. "Each is willing to put forth the extra effort often necessary for the well-being of those in our care, the benefit of our staff, and the expectations of our government partner."

"I am very pleased to receive this recognition," said Brunelle. "It feels good to have the hard work you do recognized by others."

"I am very pleased to be honored in this way by the leadership at LAC." said Johnson. "Hard work and a job well done don't go unnoticed here."

Redbud motorcycle ride set

April is Redbud Month in Southern and Eastern Kentucky. TOUR Southern and Eastern Kentucky (TOUR SEKY) is excited to announce its third annual Redbud Motorcycle Ride along the Red River Gorge National Scenic Byway. The Ride is set for April 21st, 2012 with registration from 10:00 am - 11:30 am.

Riders will cruise from Berea to the Slade Welcome Center in Powell County (near Natural Bridge Sate Resort Park). Registration for the non-guided ride is at the Train Depot in the Old Town section of Berea. Registration is $10 for singles and $15 for doubles. Riders who bring a completed liability waiver to registration will receive a $5 discount. To receive a copy of the waiver, or more information about the ride, e-mail Maggie Bill, mbill@tourseky.com.

At the end of the ride, the first 200 participants will receive a free t-shirt, redbud seedlings and the chance to win other gifts and prizes. The ride will be held rain or shine. Proceeds from the ride will go toward the Redbud Trails Program. You can learn more about the Redbud Trails Program and Redbud Month events by visiting www.tourseky.com.

The Redbud Trails program is an initiative of Congressman Hal Rogers (KY 5th Dist).

The program was created in 2004 to encourage and promote tourism in Southern and Eastern Kentucky. More than 450,000 Redbud trees and seedlings have been planted in TOUR's 47 county service area and thousands more will be planted in 2012. Schools, non-profit organizations and community leaders have all participated in the redbud seedling giveaways and plantings.

TOUR SEKY is an award winning initiative of Congressman Hal Rogers. The organization's mission is to educate, expand, develop and market the existing and potential tourism industry throughout southern and eastern Kentucky, while contributing to the economic, cultural growth, health and awareness, and overall quality of life of the region. For additional information about TOUR SEKY visit www.tourseky.com, or call 606-677-60
